Pacific Railroad Bills.

Congress is now considering a bill which aims to force the Pacific Railroad into payment of its debts. The fact that Thurman, Edmunds and Booth are ardent supporters of the measure guarantees for it a fair consideration and perhaps ultimate success. The railroad liabilities are now in contact with some men whom the almighty dollar can not purchase. When Edmunds and Thurman speak against money influence it totters and falls. In this way Edmunds asserted the other day that he had seen these men passing their favors about in the Senate chamber itself and he declared that investigation would show who had been corrupt and who had been enlightened. This announcement drove the railroad men over to the side of right with such haste that they left Stanley Mathews in a very dangerous position. Thurman and Edmunds, the oldest men now in the Senate, do not labor without accomplishing something, and they have found an able coadjutor in Senator Booth, of whose speech a Times correspondent writes as follows:

Immediately after the expiration of the morning hour Senator Booth of California took the floor. The Senate was immediately hushed in silence. Nearly every Senator was in his seat. Booth speaks too seldom for one who speaks so well. His effort was unique, masterly and powerful from beginning to end, and held the undivided attention of the Senate.

It would seem from this that there is a prospect at last for learning whether the people or the corporations govern this country. We hope to record a signal victory for the people.

An Oakland Sensation.

A secret meeting was held in Oakland on Wednesday evening last, at which about forty persons attended. The object was to consider the course to be pursued in relation to certain lands held by individuals and corporations in the State, which are considered by the parties meeting together to be held illegally. It is now determined to jump these lands. Some land claimed by the Central Pacific Railroad Company, and also by W. H. Carpenter, will be the first picked upon. At their first meeting over forty members signed the roll, by which every man is compelled to furnish himself with firearms, and swear to defend the land which he jumps. They claim to be in correspondence with parties in San Francisco, and state that within a few weeks they will have a thousand men in their ranks, and should the Sheriff come to dispossess them they will defend what they claim with their lives.

This is, in its inception, a movement against land grabbers, which works upon the same principle with Kearney's crusade against John. Force of arms is to try what earnest petition fails to accomplish; want and suffering are impelling men towards an adoption of the primitive methods, to the disregard of law and order. That such lawless remedies are worthless we all know, but they point to the existence of wrongs which may induce a war of classes before many years have passed away.

Car fare in San Francisco is now fixed at five cents per ride, and it was hoped that the change was in the interest of justice. So it was, but mark you, there is a way of compensating these little legislative encroachments which every honest corporation understands. If business is dull they reduce wages. If accidents happen they raise freights. If the Legislature interferes they make men take one meal less per day or quit their employ. And so the honest street car companies have just reduced wages so that they may retain that cent and a quarter profit hitherto enjoyed. We don't believe in Kearneyism, but we should like to see every company's cars stopped until the old rate of wages be restored.

There seems to be no way of arriving at a definite plan of action in case the $20,000 school tax be levied, and hence there is a strong opposition to the tax. It seems to us very strange that mutual understanding can not settle this matter satisfactorily, but if there is no way in which the three sections of the town can be at least partially satisfied the tax will be voted down. We need more school facilities but it will be better to wait unless the proposed expenditure can be satisfactory to all.

Mark Hopkins' Millions.

Some misunderstanding has prevailed in reference to the disposition of the estate of the late Mark Hopkins in the event of no will having been left by the deceased, which is now generally believed to be the fact. Such being the case, the law of inheritance declares that the widow shall receive three-fourths of the property of the intestate and the residue be divided equally between his surviving brothers, of whom there are two—Moses, a resident of Connecticut and the father of three sons, and William, a bachelor. Tim Hopkins, his adopted son, is highly estimated by the widow, who will see that he is suitably provided for. To sum up the whole matter, Mrs. Hopkins takes three-quarters of the estate and Mark's two brothers divide the residue equally between them.—Ex.

This is all very well, but what does Mark get, himself? He had all the bother and worry about getting those few millions together, and had not finished his work when a paltry attack of rheumatism took his life. Is it possible that he worked all his life to enrich some one else? Hardly. What, then, was the ever present aim and object of his life? To get money. What is money to him now? Nothing. Did its possession in such a sum help him to enjoy life? Not a whit. He pursued something then which prevented an enjoyment of life and was of no benefit after death. Inordinate matter was his wish, and he secured it. But it brought him neither name, fame or pleasure. In the eloquent words of Harry Hughs, "Mark Hopkins is dead, dead as any pauper, and worked to death like any slave." And so we ask again, while you are dividing the estate, what portion falls to Mark Hopkins of Lone Mountain?

GRANT INDORSES HAYES.—A letter received at Washington on the 3d instant from a gentleman who has been traveling with General Grant in the East, and who writes from Athens, reports that General Grant watches events at home closely, and in all his conversation and discussion is an earnest and emphatic supporter of the present Administration. He always speaks of President Hayes in the most friendly manner, and with the warmest wishes for his success. A letter received in Washington some time ago from a gentleman who had been with General Grant for some time before he left Europe for the East, reported in like manner that the General expressed the most perfect satisfaction with the President's Southern policy as being both wise and necessary. In fact from all that is certainly known here, it would appear that General Grant must be counted among the strongest supporters of President Hayes.

If any man who reads this family journal (job work solicited) knows of anything more laughable than the attempts of the two great parties to keep their zealous followers in office from stealing, we should like to hear from him. Doorkeeper Polk, in Washington, a Simon pure Democrat who joined in the reform cry until his little face was black, was fired out last week. And why? Because he had built up the perquisites of his office until he was more influential than the Speaker of the House. Now we shall have another doorkeeper, and then there will be another hue and cry, and he too will find himself on the outside.

The London Economist sees symptoms of a better condition of business throughout the commercial world, and thus sums up the requisites for a general revival of trade as: 1. Greater economy and industry. 2. Unusual harvests. 3. Accumulation of savings. The two first conditions are being realized in the United States. The third may be looked for as their natural sequence after the experience of hard times in the past.

Wish we might see things as the Economist does. The United States, according to our idea, is accumulating more saving banks than savings.

The good, square American record of the Gold Hill News as a straightforward, honest Republican newspaper is better, cleaner and more consistent than any other in the State of Nevada.

The Gold Hill News said this yesterday, and although the News should not say such things, we believe it to be the exact truth. We have before this mentioned the spirit of justice and fair play which has always appeared in the new columns of our cotem.

The Greenback State Convention of Oregon met at Albany yesterday afternoon, and after a permanent organization, appointing committees, etc., adjourned until to-day, when a State ticket was nominated.

Sacramento Bee: The Moffat punch law is said to be a Republican trick to disfranchise the Democratic masses—it proposes to tax "drinks." A neat calculation also proves that a tax of two cents a drink would have compelled the members of the late California Legislature to pay their own salaries. There is evidently a disposition somewhere to tyrannize over the weak. It is to be feared that the "Blue Ribbon" movement will yet give public men "the blues."

We learn from St. Petersburg that the direction of foreign affairs has practically passed into the hands of General Ignatieff. Russia continues to purchase large quantities of war material in Germany. Lord Salisbury's note has put an end to the plan for a revival of the Congress scheme.

GRAND JURY.—The Grand Jury has adjourned to meet April 24th, and in the meantime a committee will continue the work of examination into county matters. The committee consists of Messrs. Bender, Crockett, Beck, Manning and Boynton. The committee has not allowed itself time enough for a thorough examination, but insofar as its labors may extend can hardly fail to endorse the report of the last jury. Taking warning from the mistakes of the last jury, the body now in session will probably not attempt to show charity where gratitude cannot be looked for. Sift the matter thoroughly, gentlemen, and let us know whether the last report was made by office-seekers or honest citizens of the county.

Jottings.

Gen. R. M. Clarke is in town. Everybody has a Spring cold. The river rose about four inches last night. Humboldt county tax is $2 80 on each $100. Local Items is examining the school matters. J. W. Holbrook, of Wadsworth, is in town. They talk politics now on the Comstock. The Justice Court has quite suspended hostilities. The "horny handed sons of toil" meet this evening at the Reno Opera House.

Rev. Luke will preach in the Methodist Church to-morrow both morning and evening. Ophir dropped to-day but Alta advanced. Stock dealing is not very exciting just now. Mr. Isaacs of the firm of Cohn & Isaacs, goes below to-night after a full stock of Spring and Summer goods.

Be very careful about Spring fevers. They are worst than diphtheria by long odds. Wood chopping will cure it.

Professor Shepherd will lecture at the Academy of Music on the 15th and 16th inst. We shall have more to say of this noted lecturer next week.

Virginia City is to be further indicted. The Maria D'Est's Female Minstrels will arrive here to-morrow night, and on Monday night will give their select entertainment in that city. Alexander McKibben, one of Reno's best blacksmiths, left with his family this morning for Bodie. He first secured a good position before removing his personal effects to the above overdone mining camp.

A late decision of the Supreme Court reverses the decision of the District Court in the case of J. S. Shoemaker and T. E. Haydon vs. A. J. Hatch, which was given in favor of the plaintiffs and remands the case for a new trial in the District Court.

Just as we passed two young men on the street to-day, one said to the other, "Have you a clean shirt in your satchel? I have a change of under clothing in my valise," from which we inferred that one was to be dressed up and would then breast the world for a position. Pythias would share the subsequent dividends.

HEADQUARTERS.—Mr. L. E. Crews has opened a saloon on the corner of Commercial Row and Virginia street, at the old Capital or Cooke's building, as it is more familiarly known, and with his old chum Illidge holds himself in readiness to compound all the fancy drinks, the cooling beverages, or the fine straight. His saloon is a first class place to step into and "smile" with some comfort to yourself. He will also have a reading rack, where the pilferer of news or those who wish to enlighten their understanding by knowledge press transmitted, may have ample opportunity so to do. The Headquarters will be open day and night. In the same room is a restaurant. Thus a man can eat, drink and smoke without leaving the room. What more can a lazy man want or those who can appreciate comfort desire. See ad. elsewhere.

WORKINGMEN.—The Workingmen will hold a meeting to-night at the Reno Opera House. President Walker informs us that a programme of unusual interest will be furnished, consisting of extemporaneous speeches for the most part by the friends of the cause. Mr. Walker says they do not want prepared speeches any more, but prefer the kind which comes from the heart. He expects a grand rally to-night.

OFFICERS.—The following gentlemen were elected officers of the Meat Shipping Association, for the ensuing year at the meeting of the Association held last Wednesday in San Francisco. President, John Cashin; Secretary, A. T. Spots; Treasurer, M. C. Lake; Superintendent, at Reno, M. B. Dewell.

BASE BALL.—A meeting was called in Wadsworth Wednesday evening, April 3d, by the members of the Pyramid Base Ball Club to elect their officers for 1878. The following were chosen: F. G. Butler, President; C. Holladay, Vice-President; H. Eaden, Treasurer; C. H. Wilson, Secretary.

ILL.—We are sorry to learn that Joe Smith, of Wadsworth, is down with the rheumatism. Hope to hear of his speedy return to health and business prosperity.

District Court.

Saturday, April 6.—Case of E. C. Gooch vs. Sullivan and Kelley. Defendant was allowed to demur to complaint of plaintiff.

Sam Brown vs. Alvaro Evans. Demurrer sustained and plaintiff allowed to amend his complaint.

State vs. L. Woodward et al. Defendants given until next Monday to plead to indictment of Grand Jury.

State vs. Ah Fong and Ah Ham. Defendants given until Monday to plead.

United Brooklyn Mining Company vs. Wicks and Fisk. Demurrer argued and taken under advisement.

Douyette vs. Oulette. Statement submitted for settlement.

State vs. Ah Chouey. Set for arraignment and hearing of defendant's plea next Monday. The defendant claims that his name is Sam Good and that he is not the party mentioned in the indictment.

Court adjourned until next Monday.

THAT SUGGESTION.—We have been talking for some time about the advisability of our farmers varying their crops, and hope that they may see, as we do, the need for such a step. One of our prominent retail merchants informed us recently that he was obliged to send to California for chickens, eggs, and wheat for chicken feed. This is all wrong, and considering the fact that these articles are all staple and command their worth in cash at all times, it is desirable that we shall raise them at home and keep their purchase price in circulation here. Think of it.

AGENT.—W. D. Phillips has been appointed agent of the White Star, Inman and Cunard line of steamers, which ply between New York and the principal ports of Europe. Those who wish to go from this point to Liverpool, London, Paris or other places in Europe can buy a through ticket from this point. Further, if you have a friend in the Eastern States and wish to send him a ticket to come to this point or to San Francisco, you can buy your ticket of Mr. Phillips, send it to your friend, and he can come on his way rejoicing. Office at C. P. R. ticket office.

AN CHOUY.—This famous individual now denies that he is Ah Chouey, or any relation to that sinner. He claims the euphonious title of Fong Funk, and claims that he is descended from a Chinese mandarin of high degree. He was traveling in this country for the good of his health, and refuses to put up money for his defense merely because he scorns to use filthy lucre in defense of his own innocence. He wears that stick in his nose for the benefit of his eyesight.

MILLS STATION SCHOOL.—The Mill station School, taught by Mr. Ira Clarke, is flourishing finely. Mr. Clarke has some 25 or 30 scholars under his charge, is an old, experienced and well-educated teacher, and is rendering entire satisfaction to all concerned. His school room is much too small and before another term should be enlarged by the Trustees of that district. His school will close in about one month.

EXCITING.—The blacksmith next door to us shod a pinto mule to-day, and if you never saw a man earn his bread by the sweat of his brow, you should have been there. That mule twisted into all conceivable shapes in order to get one fair shot at the artisan, and when he saw that he was bound to fail his heart failed him entirely and a more discouraged looking mule you never saw. The smith earned his money.

CUPOLA FURNACE.—The Cupola furnace was fired up this afternoon, but with what result we did not learn. No ore was put into this furnace, however, and heat was merely applied to test its caloric enduring powers. Next Monday, if all worked well to-day, ore will be tried, and we shall soon know the capabilities of the cupola furnace, and how it and the Schively process agree.

"OUR BANTLING."—The Eureka Republican says: The Reno Gazette entered upon its third year and fifth volume April 1, whereupon the publishers grow facetious over their lively "bantling of the brain." They have cause for self-congratulation over their issue, and we offer ours. The Gazette is a valuable exchange.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. W. C. Gray requests us to announce that Rev. N. J. Luke will officiate in the Methodist church to-morrow at morning and evening service. Mr. Luke is pastor at Truckee.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

RETURNED.—Mrs. Julia J. Prescott has just returned from San Francisco after a careful inspection of all the latest novelties in the line of fancy goods and millinery. Mrs. Prescott congratulates herself that her labors to supply the ladies of Reno and vicinity with the latest styles have been appreciated, and her recent visit of four weeks to the city of San Francisco has been purposely prolonged that she might study and select the exquisite Spring and Summer styles which she now offers to her patrons. Her prices are lower than ever, to suit the hard times, and the goods are new displayed at her establishment on Commercial Row. The ladies should call.
